Client Work

Recent representative matters include consummation of the following transactions:

Automotive Industry

Advised a West Coast automotive dealer in its acquisition and financing of a vacant 1.6-acre property in San Bruno, which will be the future home of a three-story Hyundai and Genesis car dealership. As part of the transaction, David assisted Cardinale with its diligence review of the real property, resolution of easements and other title matters, financing of the acquisition and construction of the project, and negotiations with the manufacturers. A press release describing the transaction can be read here.

Advised an international Fortune 300 automotive retailer in its acquisition of three South Carolina dealership franchises. Mr. Meyer provided counsel on the purchase of the properties, prepared inter-company leases, and assisted the retailer with its diligence review. A press release describing the transaction can be read here.

Advised an international Fortune 300 automotive retailer in its acquisition of two high volume dealerships in Southern California. Mr. Meyer conducted diligence reviews of the stores' operation and properties, counseled the retailer on the purchase of a property, and negotiated a lease with purchase option for a property. A press release describing the transaction can be read here.

Counseled a Southern California car dealer group to the successful conclusion of a sale of a dealership and the underlying real estate located in Palmdale, California while simultaneously advising the client on and resolving litigation involving the franchisor.

Advised a San Diego-based automotive group on the sale of five dealerships to an automotive retailer. Mr. Meyer also negotiated leases with options to purchase for the dealership real properties and corporate documents for the client.

Advised a Southern California dealer on the sale of its dealerships located in Los Angeles to a large Washington-based automotive group. Mr. Meyer negotiated leases with options to purchase for the dealership real properties and assisted with diligence efforts.

Advised an automotive dealership in Southern California on the sale of five of their dealerships comprised of seven franchises located in Thousand Oaks, California to a national automotive group. Mr. Meyer closed the transaction smoothly and quickly in accordance with the client's desired timeline. A press release describing the transaction can be read here.

Advised a large Canada-based automotive dealership group in its acquisition of five dealerships from a regional automotive group. ArentFox Schiff handled all aspects of the transaction, including the acquisition, financing, and leasing of the dealerships' real properties. Mr. Meyer led the transaction for the Canadian-based automotive group, the third time he has assisted our client in acquiring automobile dealerships in California. A press release describing the transaction can be read here.

Advised an automotive dealership group based in Canada, in acquiring its first United States car dealerships. Mr. Meyer also helped to form several entities to operate the California dealerships, lease their real estate and achieve the group's desired United States corporate structure.

Advised a large San Diego-based dealership group in its closed loan refinancing for nine of its twelve vehicle dealerships and four affiliated real estate owners which allowed the group to consolidate its debt and increase its debt limit with a single lender on favorable terms. Mr. Meyer helped secure limitations on the lender's remedy provisions and negotiated needed transactional carve-outs so that the dealership group can continue to operate efficiently.

Advised a national dealer group in its acquisition of its first Texas car dealership. Mr. Meyer and his team also advised our client's acquisition entities on the acquisition of the real property underlying the dealership. Mr. Meyer was able to close the transaction quickly and smoothly, in advance of the client's aggressive year-end closing target.

Advised a regional dealer group in its refinancing of one of its dealership's commercial mortgage. Mr. Meyer negotiated loan documents with the financing company's counsel, provided corporate counsel to the client, and advised on title matters. Despite a difficult lending environment, the transaction closed quickly and smoothly only a few days after the loan documents were finalized.

Advised a luxury automotive retailer on the successful sale of two of its dealerships to the nation's third-largest automotive retailer.

Advised a California technology startup in acquiring its first California dealership and related matters. The startup is primarily involved in digitizing automotive sales and providing cloud-based dealer management software aimed at outperforming the current dealer management systems available in the market.

Advised a Mexico-based dealership group on its disposition of its California operations, which resulted in them being able to avert bankruptcy, work-out complicated financial arrangements with the manufacturer and its financial affiliate, and consummate the sales of all six of its California dealership franchises.

- Advised a Canadian dealership group on its acquisition of the Santa Monica, CA Ford, and Lincoln dealerships, expanding the dealership group's presence from Canada into the United States. As part of the transaction, ArentFox Schiff advised the acquisition entity in its organizational matters, its financing arrangements with its American partner, and with respect to employment matters for the dealerships' employees.
- Advised a regional dealer group on a high-value sale of two dealerships and the lease of the underlying properties to a Canadian automotive group. The acquisition transaction, which took about ten months to complete, was notable for its high multiple of earnings which triggered a Hart Scott Rodino filing.
- Advised a regional dealer group in the sale of its dealership assets and real property to an affiliate of an international automotive dealership group.
- Advised an automotive dealership in the sale of its assets, the sale of underlying real estate in a multi-parcel 1031 real property exchange in Hollywood, California, and in associated leasing matters.
- Advised a large automotive group in its ongoing expansion, recently closing real property and dealership acquisitions in Huntington Beach, California.
- Advised a prominent private equity fund in the formation of its auto retail joint venture with a prominent auto retail operator and in the acquisition of its first dealership groups. The deal involved a complicated operating structure, several obstacles to manufacturer approvals, and substantial due diligence. The deal reflects a trend of increasing private equity interest in the auto retail business sector.
- Advised one of the 100 largest auto groups in the nation, in its successful sale of eleven automobile dealerships, a collision center, and fourteen associated real estate properties. The dealerships and real estate were sold to the largest privately held automotive group in the nation. Among the brands sold were Lexus, BMW, Infiniti, Honda, Buick GMC, Chrysler Jeep Dodge Ram, Alfa Romeo, Fiat, Cadillac, Volvo, and Volkswagen. The size of the transaction which was among the largest in the industry in 2015, resulted in a complex closing process and required a Hart Scott Rodino filing.
- Advised a Texas and Mexico-based dealership group in its successful acquisition of a flagship dealership in downtown San Francisco. The deal was notable for the location of the dealership and the financial assistance of the manufacturer in making the transaction go forward. ArentFox Schiff negotiated a very favorable Framework Agreement on behalf of the companies and Mr. Meyer consummated the acquisition, which substantially expands the client's footprint in Northern California.
- Advised a large regional dealer group in its expansion and in its acquisition of a large local competitor. Mr. Meyer oversaw a team that handled the transaction and the complex real estate transactions which closed concurrently with it.
- Advised one of the nation's largest private dealer groups in the country in its acquisition of Honda, Volkswagen, and Buick/GMC dealerships in Orange County.
- Advised the country's 10th largest dealership group in its first California dealership acquisition. Mr. Meyer led the ArentFox Schiff team which advised the client on the high-value acquisition, in its California employment practices and compensation structure, regulatory compliance and licensing, and in the related real estate matters.
- Advised the owner of a high-line automobile franchise in Northern California and its affiliated real estate entity in a high-value disposition of the business and a long-term lease with the new owner.
